ACADEMIC ENGLISH PROGRAM (AEP)

About Us

Cambridge Campus is a new English centre located in Rabat with a new concept which offers a variety of English courses for different purposes and needs .

English is expected to become Morocco's primary foreign language in the next five years , for this reason Cambridge Campus provides a new perspective of learning English based on modern pedagogical methods .

Overview

Academic English Program primarily targets researchers, academics and postgraduate students (Masters/PhD) who are willing to develop their academic practices in English .

In addition to being the language of worldwide, English now is the first language for science and research .

What is Academic English ?

-You're sitting in class, listening to your professor. Everything seems to make sense. You're nodding along and writing your notes. But things change when you get back home. Suddenly, your notes aren't so clear. You glance at your next reading assignment and have no idea where to start.

What are all these confusing vocabulary words? Why are the sentences so long? Why doesn't the author just write the way people speak?

You're looking at a special type of English—academic English, which is used in universities, research papers and scholarly books.

Academic English helps an individual gain literacy competency and make advancements in formal education. Most courses for higher studies are offered in English, hence the importance of Academic English becomes higher.

Why Academic English ?

Academic English is a key element for researchers to fulfill several objectives and acquire various skills such as :

- Academic Writing and Editing .
- Publishing Articles in indexed journals .
- Building an international research career .
- Harvard / APA referencing and In-text citation
- Presenting papers in conferences and panel discussions .
- Facilitating international mobility for young researchers, (Scholarships, Fellowships, Research postdoctoral opportunities).
